This summer, what will yours be?

Afternoons & evenings in June and July

Spending your days at camp or the beach? Join us afterward, and keep your mind engaged.

Morning program: July

Vision Camp

If you ever wonder “Why do we have to study this?” or “What am I going to do after high school?” this is the experience for you.

Each student works on a customized program that includes:

- Leadership Literacies
- Tutoring
- Planning & Organization

Take that critical thinking and use it to tackle a problem you see in the world. Connect what you study in school to the things you care about in life. Explore how your gifts and interests can inform your college and career choices. Dream a little and develop a vision for your next 10 years!

Work on themed projects built around your interests, your needs and your summer assignments. Deepen your knowledge base and problem-solving by integrating academic subjects with research skills and real-life applications.

Set goals and make plans of action for them. Improve your task management: learn how to “single-task” and improve your focus.

For all programs

Focus on subject(s) you need the most: math, reading, writing, history, science, Spanish, APs, SAT/ACT, ISEE.

Bring summer assignments and school applications.

Learn how to learn.

Set up systems for managing your time, your stuff, your digital life and your extracurriculars.

Add new study skills to your repertoire so you can succeed in any class, with any teaching style.

Bring that summer homework you put off until the last minute! Also, we’ll review last year’s topics and preview this year’s, so you walk in on day one ready to make the most of your new classes.

School success requires more than just showing up and finishing your homework. Learn how to communicate, be proactive and deal with problems relating to teachers, peers and the choices you make in classes and activities.

Set up systems for managing your time, your stuff, your digital life and your extracurriculars. Add new study skills to your repertoire so you can succeed in any class, with any teaching style.
